

Our Services

Child Contact Centre

Our Child Contact Centre is a safe, friendly and neutral place where children of separated families can spend time with one or both parents and sometimes other family members. Our centre is a child-centred environment where we have toys, games and facilities that reflect the diverse needs of children affected by family breakdown.

Quality Assurance

The dedicated Quality Assurance (QA) team at Network Contact Centre promotes continuous improvement in all aspects of service. QA ensures that we not only comply with both internal and external minimum standards, but that we strive to exceed them.

Our Quality Assurance team works tirelessly to maintain the highest quality of care for the children or young people.

QA also acts as a source of information, advice, support and evaluation to staff at all levels across the organisation. This includes conducting customer surveys and producing analysis of their feedback.

Network Healthcare Contact Centre

Information for Parents

Network Contact Centre are offering a cosy but safe environment for families to meet their children they no longer live with.

The centre is staffed by experienced workers who are there to support both the children and the parents as we understand that contact can be a stressful process for all involved.

The use of the service is open to any parent who has a contact agreement with the other parent through solicitors or through the courts, CAFCASS and Clients can self refer.

We aim to:

- Provide a cosy but safe environment for estranged parents to meet with their children
- Support the process of re-introduction and relationship building between estranged parent and child/children.
- Offer a sensitive approach to the concept of contact.
- Offer an efficient support mechanism to the work of Solicitors who refer to us.
- Develop a trustworthy relationship with local agencies and courts officers.

We offer two types of contact:

Supported contact is offered when there is an agreement that the contact parent can look after the child (ren) without supervision. In order to be accepted for this type of contact it is a requirement for both parents to have solicitors dealing with their case. This type of contact is run throughout the week and on Saturdays. Staff members check in on families throughout the allocated contact time.

Supervised contact is specifically devised for families where a court determines that there is a need for contact to happen in a supervised environment due to a number of concerns. During these contacts only one family at a time will be using the playroom and a supervisor will be in the room with the family. Additionally, part of the role of the supervisor will be to record the sessions as solicitors (and the courts) may request reports at any point in time. This service is offered throughout the week and on Saturdays.

Handover Service

Providing a safe and child friendly service for estranged parents to hand over children to the other party. This is when the families use the centre as a "pick up" and "drop off" point whereby the children are collected and taken out by the contact parent who then brings them back to the centre once contact time is over (this is called Handover & Handback)

Are there any rules about contact?

It is really important that if you cannot come to a contact, you let us know. We need to look after all involved in contact and the contact may be cancelled or cut short if anyone arrives under the influence of alcohol or drugs, causes a threatening atmosphere or staff feel either the child, themselves or others are at risk. You may want to bring gifts to the contact, but it is important you only bring what is agreed and they are age appropriate or we may have to ask you to take them away with you. You shouldn't bring other people with you to contact if this has not been agreed. We will not be able to let them in. It is important to be on time for contact. If you are late, we will not be able to extend the time you have with the child.

How will I know where and when my contact will be?

Once we received information that you are to have contact with your family member, we will organise a contact pre visit, which will be an opportunity for all people involved in the contact to talk about the times, dates and rules of contact. Once this is all agreed, you will be asked to sign this agreement and everyone will have a copy of this information to take away.

Our policies and how to access them

Network Healthcare work to a set of policies designed to ensure consistency and best practice in our Contact Centre. If you would like to request a list of these policies, and/or copies of any policy, please ask your Contact Supervisor or email julia.schofield@networkhsc.co.uk

Is a record of the visit kept?

Records will be kept of any visit by the contact supervisor. How detailed these records are depends on the person who has referred you to the service. If at any time you want to see these records you must ring the Contact Centre to book an appointment. In some cases records of contact visits may be used in an Assessment or Court Report.

Complaints and Compliments

Complaints and Representations

If you have a complaint or a representation about any aspect of the service you have received from Network Contact Centre, please let us know about it.

We are always sorry if someone is dissatisfied with our work, but we welcome the opportunity to look into it, and put it right if we can. Many important lessons can be learnt this way, and this is part of our commitment to continuously improving our services.

We believe that the best people to resolve a problem are those most closely involved with providing the service, therefore the first stage of investigating a complaint is for the local manager to investigate the issue and try to satisfy the concerns. So if you have a complaint or comment to make about Network Healthcare, please tell your worker or their manager about it, and they will work to resolve it, usually within three weeks and often more quickly.

If you are not satisfied with what happens at this first stage, or if you don't consider your complaint suitable for the local manager to investigate, the complaint can move on to Stage Two, where it will be investigated by someone independent, who has had nothing to do with the management of the service you have received. If you are still dissatisfied with the independent investigator's report, a Panel, which includes a director of the company and independent members, will meet, reconsider the matter and reach a final conclusion.

Compliments

We are also delighted to receive compliments about our services and our staff, and any suggestions for further improvement and development.
